News from the Studio

Well, 2012 has certainly been a corker! We now have four gorgeous daughters, 3 bonkers dogs, our own bee hives and a veritable squadron of cats. The whole flower team has been on top form and we've had a record year for weddings.

As we approach our busy Winter season we're now re-modelling the workrooms at Broadclyst, I've blown off the dust from my laptop to continue work on my next book and we're taking a flood of bookings for events for 2013 – marvelous!

Autumn has crept in on us – I'd begun to notice the misty crisp mornings, slight feeling of frostbite in fingertips during early starts in the workroom and smell of ripening apples but it was brought home by recently falling over approximately 12 pairs of wellies and wet weather gear blocking the back door! This must mean it will soon be time to dust off the cider press, hunter gather herculean amounts of sloes for Christmas gin and collect rosehips for syrups – it really is my favorite time of year (I know I say that every season!)

Do mull over the new class list when you get a moment and let me know if there's anything you'd like to join in with. I look forward to catching up with you soon.

Best wishes to you and yours

DIRECTIONS TO MY HOME STUDIO

Coming on the Old A30 (not the new bypass) – go straight through clyst Honiton and at the beginning of the Rockbeare Straight you'll see a Murco fuel station on your right at the brow of the hill (Rockbear Motor Services) and on the left you'll see a thatched cottage with the high brick wall (Stoney Villa). Directly after the thatched cottage there's a small lane on the left with a red signpost marked "Town & Country Supplies" (which is the family business - if you miss this turn you'll reach the Jack In The Green Pub). Take this lane which will take you over a hump back bridge & then a level railway crossing. Keep going straight up the hill, along a flat bit and then back down the hill. At the bottom of the hill you'll go over a small humped back bridge by a farm (farm on left) and you want to turn right here signposted to Burrow and Broadclyst.

After a short distance you'll come to a four cross way, and you need to go straight across. Carry straight on this road passing Burrow Cottages on your left and going around the slight bend. As the road straightens out a bit you'll see my house on your right. It's a thatched cottage painted yellow with a beech hedge at the front. You'll probably see several Landrovers parked outside. If you go past my house you'll end up in Town Hill by Town End and need to come back a bit.

Or From Exeter to Broadclyst Village - Approaching Broadclyst Village from Exeter (via Whipton, the University side of Exeter or through Beacon Heath), you'll pass through Pinhoe and then over a speed restrictor before you get to the centre of the village. In the village centre you'll pass the Coachmans Rest Tea Room on your left, then you'll see the Church on your left and the Red Lion Pub. Almost directly opposite the pub (on your right) you'll pass a thatched bus shelter and you need the next right hand turn after this, called Town Hill (if you pass the primary school on your right then you've gone a bit too far and need to turn around). Drive down Town Hill and carry straight on that road – don't turn right to Town End. You will pass through a pair of national speed limit signs straight in front of you and it looks as though you're driving out into the countryside. My house is the first house that you'll come to on the left. It has beech hedge in front and it's a cream coloured thatched house called College (although there isn't a very large sign so you probably won't see the house name).
